31 March 2026.

The Communist Party of Swaziland is to hold its 6th National Congress, which will be convened from April 3 to April 6, 2026, in South Africa.

This significant event will gather 50 delegates under the theme: “Building Revolutionary Consciousness, Mobilizing the Working Class and Masses, and Creating Conditions for Democratic Victory.”

The congress aims to adopt a comprehensive Political Strategy. This strategy will complete the first phase and lay prospects for subsequent phases of the National Democratic Revolution in Swaziland.

Key is strengthen revolutionary consciousness by enhancing awareness and understanding among the working class and masses regarding their role in the revolutionary process.

We will also focus on mobilization of support by increasing engagement and mobilization of the working class and broader masses for collective action towards achieving democratic goals.

Specific conditions are necessary to exist that will take our struggle to victory. The congress will pay attention to those factors.

We invite our international and internal allies to send messages of solidarity. Your support is crucial as we strive for a democratic and just society in Swaziland.

The task ahead is full mobilisation of the oppressed people of Swaziland and international allies of the just struggle to urgently overturn the absolute monarchy and establish a popular power to reorganise our country and resolve all current problems our population face.
